

THE SPECIAL EDUCATION PROCESS

Local school districts and public school academies follow the same general procedure in evaluating special education students and planning their education program. The following is a brief outline of the process:

